

Create a responsive website layout using Flexbox that meets the following requirements:

- 1.The layout should have a header, main content area, and a footer.
- 2.The header should have a logo on the left and a navigation menu on the right. The navigation menu should be horizontally centered and evenly spaced.
- 3.The main content area should have two sections: a left sidebar and a central content area. The left sidebar should have a fixed width, while the central content area should take up the remaining space.
- 4.The footer should have three columns: the first column should contain the company's address, the second column should contain the company's contact information, and the third column should contain social media links.
- 5.Add appropriate styles to the layout, such as font styles, colors, and padding/margins, to make it visually appealing.
